STUDENTS' HAND BOOK

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION

It gives me pleasure to write a Preface to this revised (second) edition of our University's Handbook. This edition replaces the first edition whose Preface was written by the pioneer Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Ebitimitula Nicholas Etebu.

It is the tradition in most universities that policy documents be revised every five years. This applies to academic curricula and Management policies. The Students' Handbook is one such important document. The first edition has served for five years.

Beyond the routine of five-year review, there have been changes in different aspects of the academic and residential life of students. Academic programmes and regulations, guidelines for sessional registration and course enrolment have all been revisited to reflect the realities of the present times. As the Senate and other organs of the University have revised these policies and practices, they need to be properly entrenched in the Students' Handbook for easier reference.

On behalf of the Governing Council, the Management, the Senate and staff of Bayelsa Medical University, I enjoin all students to study this Handbook and keep it for regular reference. Furthermore, staff of the University, parents, prospective students, other stakeholders and the general public at large would find this document enlightening about the policies, programmes and procedures concerning student matters in Bayelsa Medical University.

Vice-Chancellor

PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION

Just as the Human Resources of any organization is the most important asset, so are the students in the university as they are very pivotal to the essence of the existence of the university as a citadel of learning. What we strive to achieve here in BMU is to make the students understand that the certificate alone is not the ultimate but their character as well. So when they finally graduate, we want to believe that we have students that have been molded both in character and learning.

Students should take note that their focus should include the acceptable behavior while on campus as well as the academic regulations. Most Universities do not take the issue of discipline very seriously but here at BMU, discipline is the core of everything because the essence of studying here is to save human lives which is the most precious gift as such, students should know that there is no room for mistakes as the stakes are just too high.

It is mandatory and most expedient that every student obtains a copy of the student Handbook so as to ensure a meaningful interaction amongst one another in the University Community. It is the handbook that equips students with the general guide while other more specific regulations in other documents would provide more specific instructions and guides. Students must find time to seek out necessary information from notice boards, university bulletins and other such media to be well informed on campus.

On behalf of the Governing Council, Management, Senate and Staff of the University, I wish all students a productive and fruitful stay in the University and it is my hope and fervent prayer that they would contribute to the development of society and for the benefit of humanity after their studies here.

3.7 Suspension of Studies

A registered student may, of good course (e.g. ill-health, financial constraints), seek the approval of Senate for Suspension of Studies through his/her Faculty and Department. Suspension of studies, when granted, shall be for (1) academic session only. 3.10 Final Examination

There shall be a Final Examination for each registered course at the end of every semester. The final Examination shall constitute 70% of the total score in the course. Failure to take the final examination without Senate approval shall attract an “F” grade.

3.11 Absence from Examination(s)

A student, who absents himself/herself from (a) scheduled examination(s) will be deemed to have failed the examination(s).

A student may, however, be absent from examination(s) with permission from the Senate. Such permission can only be granted by Senate following a formal application by the student to the Senate through his/her Dean of Faculty and Head of Department.

If a student is absent from examination(s) on permission, he/she will be allowed to take the examination(s) at the next available opportunity. The unit of the course(s) shall not be used to compute the student's CGPA in the semester in question.

3.12 Request for Reassessment

A student may request for the reassessment of the quality of his/her work in a course examination during the semester not later than two weeks after publication of provisional results by faculties. When a student makes such a request, he/she shall pay a reassessment fee of Two Thousand (N 2000.00) Naira which is subject to review from time to time. 3.13 Student Academic Workload

A student may apply to the Faculty Board through the Head of Department to take less or more than the prescribed limits (provided it is not less than 9 units and not more than 30 units). In cases where the total unit to be taken is less than 9 units or more than 30 units, the approval of Senate must be obtained.

N/B: Where the requested unit is above 30 units, the added unit must not translate into more than one (1) course.

3.14 Academic Counseling

Students will be assigned Academic Advisors in their departments. The Advisors shall counsel them on academic matters and other university requirements and regulations. It is the responsibility of the student to take full advantage of this service.

3.15 Definition of Credit Unit

A course credit unit is defined as one hour of lecture and one to three hours of tutorial/discussion, or two to three hours of practical (workshop, laboratory, or field work) per week per semester.

3.16 Grading System

In some courses, students' academic work shall be assessed at the end of every semester using the following numerical scores and letter grades. The final classification of degrees shall also be in accordance with the students' final CGPA.

I.

MARK %	LETTER GRADE	POINTS
70-100	A	5
60-69	B	4
50-59	C	3
45-49	D	2
40-44	E	1
00-39	F	0

However, different programmes have their specific pass scores. Some have it at 45% (D) with any total score below this being Fail (F), while others have it as 50% (C) with any score below 50% being Fail (F).

II. Incomplete Grade (I)

A student may earn an Incomplete Grade in a course if all the requirements of the course have not been met.

If the Incomplete Grade is not remedied at the next examination for the course, the student shall be assigned an “F” grade.

III. Points for Letter Grades

For the purpose of computing the academic standing of students at the end of every semester, the letter grades earned by students shall have the following points: A=5; B=4; C=3; D=2; and F=0.

A=5; B=4; C=3; D=2; E=1 and F=0.

IV. Grade points (GP)

A Grade Point for each course is the product of the points associated with a letter grade and the course unit. E.g. a student who has a “B” grade in a 3 unit course has a grade point of $4 \times 3 = 12$ because the letter grade for “B” is 4 and being a 3 unit course the product is 12 i.e., (4×3) .

Unit of courses in which the grade of “I” is earned are excluded from grade-point computation for the semester in which the “I” is earned. Upon removal of grade 'I' or if 'I' changes into an 'F' grade, the units are included in the subsequent cumulated grade point averages.

V. Total Grade Points

The total grade point is the sum of all grade points in all the courses in a given semester. For example, consider a student who took 5 courses of 3 units each. Assuming the grade obtained in the five courses were B, C, A, D and F respectively. The TGP of this student is obtained as Cumulative Credit Points (CCP) which is the summation of total credit points over all semesters from beginning to date.

VI. Grade Point Average (GPA)

The grade point average is calculated by dividing the sum of the grade points for every course in the semester by the total units attempted in a given semester.

$$\text{GPA} = \frac{\text{Total Grade Points in a semester}}{\text{Total units attempted in the semester}}$$

$$= \frac{\sum \text{Grade Point in a semester}}{\sum \text{Units attempted in the semester}}$$

II. Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA)

The Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) is the sum of the total points earned in all the semesters divided by the sum of the total number of units attempted in all the semesters.

$$\text{CGPA} = \frac{\sum \text{Grade Point in a semester in all semesters}}{\sum \text{Units attempted in the semester in all semesters}}$$

Table showing scoring and grading system

Exam. Score Percent (%)	Letter Grade	Grade Points	CGPA	Class of Degree
70-100	A	5	4.5-5.0	1 st Class
60-69	B	4	3.5-4.49	2 nd Class (Upper)
50-59	C	3	2.4-3.49	2 nd Class (Lower)
45-49	D	2	1.5-2.39	3 rd Class
40-44	E	1	1.0-1.49	Pass
0-39	F	0	0.0-0.09	Fail

All prescribed courses are considered in the computation of the final CGPA for the degree classification at the Bayelsa Medical University.

The pass mark for professional courses like MBBS, BDS, and B.Pharm, etc. shall be 50% without any class of degree. Other courses with classes of degree also have 45% as their pass mark. This shall be subject to changes from time to time in line with the dictates of national policy or policy changes as may be directed by regulatory bodies from time to time.

VIII Repeat Course Grade

When a student re-registers for and actually repeats a failed course and takes the examination in the course, he/she should be credited with the actual grade scored in the repeated examination. The new grade earned in a repeat course does not replace the 'F' grade in the student's record.

3.17 Clear Standing

A student is said to be on clear academic standing if he/she has at least a 'E' grade in all courses attempted in the University. This applies for the programmes in which 40% is the pass mark. For the professional programmes, a student on clear standing would be required to have 50% or 45% in all courses as specified for the programme.

3.18 Academic Probation

A student shall be placed on academic probation if he/she fails to maintain a minimum CGPA of 1.00 at the end of the session in his/her 100 level of study or at the end of the 1st semester in subsequent levels. The probationary status of a student shall be reversed if the student maintains a CGPA of at least 1.00 to 1.50 in any subsequent semester after the first year. The responsibility to reverse the probationary status rests with the student. A preliminary notice of poor academic standing shall be given to a student on academic probation in writing by the University.

Where the pass mark for courses in a programme is 50% or 45%, a student who has below 2.40 or 1.50 respectively is placed on academic probation.

3.19 Withdrawal for Academic Failure (WAF)

A student shall be required to withdraw from the University for Academic Failure if he/she at the end of any session fails to maintain a CGPA of at least 1.00. However, this rule shall not apply to 100 level students.

A student in his/her final year of study who also fails to make a minimum CGPA of 1.00 may be allowed to continue studentship and register for courses in the following year on concessional grounds only. Such students who fail to make 1.50 in the concessional year shall be asked to withdraw from the University.

A student who also fails to obtain a pass grade in a minimum of 40% of courses registered in the session shall also qualify for withdrawal from the University for Academic Failure. This rule applies to students at all levels including 100 level students. However, a student in his/her final year of study who fails to obtain a pass grade in a minimum of 40% of courses registered in a session shall be allowed to continue studentship and register for courses in the following session on concessional grounds only. A student who fails to obtain a pass grade in a minimum of 40% of courses registered in the concessional year shall be asked to withdraw from the University for Academic Failure.

320 Inter/Intra-Faculty transfer

Students currently registered in any programme of study in the University and have a minimum CGPA of 2.00 may apply for transfer to another Department or Faculty.

A student seeking to transfer shall complete the Inter-Faculty Transfer Form and submit same to the Head of the Department from which the student is seeking transfer.

Any student who desires to change his/her programme of study may be permitted to do so under the following conditions:

- i. A vacancy exists in the course of study into which he/she seeks a change;
- ii. He/she satisfies all entry requirements for admission into the desired course of study at the time the change is sought;
- iii. Such change of course of study shall be subject to approval by Senate after due consideration by the Faculty and Departments concerned.

3.21 Transfer from Other Institution

Students currently registered in any full-time programme in other universities may transfer their programme of study to a related programme in the Bayelsa Medical University at the beginning of a new academic session, provided that they have a minimum CGPA of 2.40.

Duly completed forms along with the applicants' transcript shall be submitted to the Registrar at least two (2) months before the commencement of the session. There shall also be an attestation that the applicant was not dismissed for misconduct from other universities.
